THE GOVERNOR'S PROPOSED BUDGET WOULD MAKE DEEP CUTS IN FUNDING FOR CALIFORNIA'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS

California's public schools serve 6.3 million students in 1,043 school districts. The Governor's Proposed 2010-11 Budget proposes to reduce funding for K-12 education by $2.7 billion – a reduction equivalent to $432 per student. This analysis examines the impact of $1.75 billion (64.9 percent) of the proposed cuts at the district level. The analysis includes the Governor's proposed reductions to K-12 school district apportionments, which provide general operating support for local schools, and cost-of-living adjustments.¹ The analysis excludes the Governor's proposal to reduce funding for the K-3 Class Size Reduction Program by $890 million since data are not yet available to assess the impact of this reduction at the district level.

* Per student reductions are calculated using districts' total average daily attendance, which does not include students enrolled at charter schools funded through the Charter School Categorical Block Grant Program.

Note: Reductions to K-12 districts are allocated based on each school district's 2008-09 revenue limit apportionment as a share of total revenue limit apportionments for all school districts in 2008-09, except for districts that did not receive state dollars for K-12 revenue limit apportionments (basic aid districts). Reductions to basic aid districts would be applied to the district's state categorical programs excluding special education, child care and development, After School Education and Safety Program Act, and Quality Education Investment Act programs. Cuts to county office of education funding were excluded from the calculation of reductions to K-12 revenue limit apportionments. K-12 revenue limit apportionments are rounded to the nearest $1,000. Figures may not sum to total due to rounding.
